

Announcement

We are happy to announce that we are planning to organise a five day workshop on preventive conservation of manuscripts in our college in the first week of March this year. The workshop will cover all the important aspects concerning manuscripts and their preservation with practical hands on training.

Institutions having manuscript collection interested to send their manuscript center staff for the workshop may please send their details along with a letter of expression of interest to the undersigned latest by 31st January.

Please fill the following registration form:
